

A B S T R A C T

The invention provides a weatherstrip forming a slideway for a motor vehicle window, the strip comprising 5 at least a fixing portion in the form of a channel-section clip suitable for engaging on a flange of the frame of a window opening of the vehicle, and a portion for supporting sealing lips that are suitable for coming into sliding contact with a sliding window pane, wherein 10 the fixing portion and the portion for supporting sealing lips are both made of rigid thermoplastic material without any reinforcing means being present.